This is the opinion of a former member of the Cabinet and several of the prominent leaders of Congress who are in the city to-day. All admit, however, that the matter will be meationed in the Republican platform, a plank being inserted declaring for revision at some time in the future. The former Cabinet officer who expressed

this view is former Postmaster General

it intelligently. Representative Payne of New York, chairman of the House Committee on Ways and Means, who is in the city, was more enthustastic than Mr. Smith. When asked if the tariff revision proposition was gaining any ground, he said:

"Not a bit of it. in New York we are entirely satisfied with the results of the prosent tariff, and we see no reason why we should interfere with it.

"It has not only restored prosperity, but has sustained that prosperity in the face of poor business and bad industrial conditions in other countries.

"I know of no monopoly that is being protected by the tariff law," he continued, when it was susgested that this was the case. "And anyhow it seems to me that the real solution of the trust question lies in the prosperity brought about by the tariff law. Why, in the face of the organization of the United States Steel Corporation there was organized the other day a steel company to Ruffelo with a capital of $10.000 feet.

"The tariff law is increasing prosperity and prosperity is increasing capital, and capital is finding the best markets for investment, or, in other words, the most profitable industries. This condition will end control monopolies."

"Then, too, the Northern Securities merger decision shows that we have a law that will lonrtol monopolies."

Other Republicans are equally positive that there will be no tariff legislation this winter.

Besides the cotton, many bales of Southern moss used for bedding was damaged. Two alarms were turned in, the first by F. E. Leeds, an employe of the American Refrigerating Transit Company, and the second by the firemen after they reached the fire. Ten companies responded, of which five were used.

Mr. Leeds discovered the fire as he was walking down the Levee, and immediately turned in the alarm. The building is a three-story structure and every floor was loaded with cotton. The cotton on the first two floors only was damaged. The fire was difficult to extinguish, as every bale of cotton had to be dragged into the street.

Several other large warehouses adjoin the one which caught, and but for the quick work of the Fire Department a big fire might have resulted.

The first two stories of the building were damaged to a considerable extent.

The firm of Goldman Bros., 1192-1108 Olive street, are attracting the attention and admiration of the people. Their rapid progress and great strides in the business have been the great wonder of the business world. As each season approaches, either another building is added or some great improvebuilding is added or some great improvement is made that causes a sensation in the city, the last improvement being the building of a genuine cottage on the floor of their salesroom, also the furnishing of different kinds of rooms on the different floors to show off their furniture and carpets for the benefit of prospective home furnishers.

"How do you do it?" was asked of one of the Mr. Goldmans. "Very simple," was the answer. "Our firm and its methods of doing business is getting better known each day. We please the people. One customer recommends another. They talk of us. Consequently, our store is crowded all the time. Our assortment of goods is injunense. Our prices are reasonable, and that is the secret of our success.

"June promises to be the busiest month of the year. We have hundreds of engagements with young couples who intend getting married and going to housekeeping, and no wonder, as we are the best-equipped furniture and carpet house in this country for furnishing the homes of newly-married couples."

Goldman Bros. have fourteen beautiful floors, and it is indeed a grand sight to see the many happy couples selecting their outifus. They seemed to be pleased with the happy prospects of the future.

The firm sells on the easy monthly payment plan, making terms to suit the purchaser.
